Description

DWBack 2 Nature is a family and friends run business. A business that started out with products only to help our family and friends with different skin care needs. Our very 1st product was whipped body butter and body moisturizing oil, That was in 2016. Truth be told the body butter was developed in 2001, as part of DijahWear (our custom made clothing line) that's what the DW stands for.
We have work hard on researching the most natural plant base and organic ingredients possible.
There are some products that need preservatives added to protect the products as well as our clients.
One of our biggest goals is to educate people on natural and handcrafted products for skin, body and hair. When you know better you do better as a people.
We also help other businesses to launch their brands, we believe the earth is spacious and the more we do our part the better our brand can grow.
We don't only do retail, we have some products that are private label and or wholesale products.
We listen to what our clients have to say about our products, and what they aren't saying.
We aim to please each and every client.
We want to thank those who believe in our brand and has helped it to grow.
